RE: Upcoming election for President Elect

Dear Board of Governors:

I am writing this letter in strong support of the candidacy of Mr. Geoffrey Revelle for the position of President-Elect.

I do not write this letter lightly but with utmost seriousness and sincerity. I have known Geoff since 1971 when I was in the 2nd half of my first year of law school at the University of Washington and Geoff was in his second year. We met on the first floor of the law school in an area where we often gathered between classes. I remember the meeting because unlike many other "upper classmen" Geoff was friendly, open and warm to talk to. He approached me and asked if I was doing OK. We sat down and visited. After that we would occasionally run into each other in class, in the hallway, at the HUB or just around. I think I only had one class with him the following year but the instant rapport that we had continued and grew.

After My second year I became a Rule 9 Intern for the King County Prosecuting Attorneys' Office. Geoff had been hired as a new Deputy. I worked part-time during my third year and would see Geoff at work. In spite of the fact that the deputies seldom paid any attention to the Rule 9's, Geoff always had a kind word and an offer of help any time I needed anything.

When I graduated I joined the office as a full time Deputy. Two years later Geoff, Bruce Ries (who is deceased) left the Prosecutor's Office to become public defenders at Eastside Defender Association. For the next two years we worked closely together handling a variety of criminal cases. After two years we left and formed a law firm in Bellevue named Revelle, Ries and McDermott. We practiced what we humorously called "renters' law" – we took whatever walked in the door to pay the rent. During the next several years we each were able to develop a civil practice in our own areas of interest. I developed a personal injury practice. Bruce went into family law and Geoff developed a corporate and business clientele. For those first few years I seemed to have more trials and hearings than my partners but Geoff was always there to lend a helping hand. There were many Saturday mornings when we met and worked on my trials, planning strategy, cross examinations, openings, voir dire and closings. I realized that he was a superbly talented attorney who had insight that proved to be very valuable. He was the best partner anyone could have ever had. Over the years our practice grew and eventually I decided I wanted to go back to being in a much smaller practice. After much consternation I left my partners to form my own, small, personal injury firm. In spite of my departure and the disappointment I am certain Geoff had in me, he was a true class act, working out a reasonable separation contract and instructing all the members of his firm to treat me with dignity and respect. I must admit he took the high road and never wavered. I was very grateful.

Over the next 15 or so years when our paths would cross he was always friendly and kind, just as he had been in law school. Then in 2000 when I was appointed to the King County Superior Court by Governor Gary Locke, Geoff was one of the first to congratulate me and offer me his assistance if I needed to run a campaign. He served as my Finance Chair and spent many hours helping me mount a strong campaign which resulted in scaring away any potential challengers.

During the almost 18 years that I served on the Bench I paid attention to all the offices and activities that Geoff participated in. I suspect that you have that list and that you must agree with me that his accomplishments are very impressive. I doubt that, when asked for help, he ever said no. I venture a guess that his exposure and involvement in bar and lawyer related activities over the last 40 years rate at the top of the scale for all candidates who are running for office. And yet, his involvement and participation were certainly done without any fanfare, with no thought of personal glory or acknowledgment, with humility and above all a great desire to give back and to make our system of justice better for all of us.

That is why you must surely give serious consideration to his candidacy for the office of President-Elect. Geoff Revelle is very special. He is a wonderful attorney with a fabulous track record. He is one of the brightest and best people I have ever met. He cares about his fellow lawyers and he always goes out of his way to help. He is dedicated to serve the needs of those who require his help. And yet he is successful enough that he could simply retire, sit back on his ample success and enjoy all the good things life has to offer. That is not Geoff. That is not what he is about. He wants to continue to make a difference.

Geoff has a unique perspective. He understands tradition but also appreciates innovations. He is neither conservative nor liberal but is able to see both sides and fairly analyze any situation. He has suffered personally when he was stricken by polio at a young age but he has overcome his limitations more than anyone I know. He is brave but humble. He is truly one of the most amazing people I have ever met.

I sincerely believe that the opportunity to elect someone like Geoff Revelle to lead the lawyers of the State of Washington seldom, if ever, presents itself. Please take advantage of that wonderful opportunity and give Geoff the chance to lead, and those of us who are members of WSBA the chance to take advantage of this extraordinary man.

Thank you for taking the time to review this letter. Please don't hesitate to contact me if you need any additional information.

Very Truly Yours,

Richard F. McDermott

Re: Geoffrey G. Revelle, Candidate for President-Elect

Dear Board Members:

I am pleased to submit this letter on behalf of Geoffrey G. Revelle, candidate for the position of President-Elect of Washington State Bar Association. I initially met Geoff Revelle when we were both first year law students at the University of Washington School of Law in 1969. He has not let his history of polio as a child interfere with obtaining his goals and objectives.

Geoff Revelle has a statewide vision for the Bar Association to improve the delivery of information and services provided to the members of the Association and the public. He will deal with the issues facing the Bar Association and its members in a constructive unified approach. Geoff Revelle is the most qualified candidate based upon his diversified record of service to the profession.

Thank you for your consideration.

Very truly yours,

David A. Thorner
